

unduetrestella, kids art and design curatorial project based in Milan, creates a new customized 2017 advent calendar, stars collection (for christmas).

After My Angel, 2015 advent calendar, dedicated to an angel, drawn by a special mom, unduetrestella goes on its research between art and design for kids, started since 2008.

stars collection (for christmas) involves different creative talents who share the idea to image a world of aesthetic for children: artists, designers, fashion designers, and illustrators, with some surprising...little guest stars.

Everybody draws a star, unique and unrepeatable, like those from the fairy tales, from our childhood memories, and from our dreams of flying spending the nights looking at the sky.

Stars to colour, to customize, and not to forget.
